

Lakewood Seward Park Emergency Communications HUB

The Hub will become “Information Central” for our neighborhood after any widespread disaster. We can help you prepare your family and neighbors! To learn more: www.lspcc.org/emergency-hub/

We are all volunteers—
Join us!

Please join us!

Volunteer with the Lakewood Seward Park Communications Hub

What will I gain from volunteering?

- Emergency preparedness will help you protect yourself and your family, which will give you peace of mind.
- Your Hub connection will let you view the preparedness picture of the whole city.
- Collaborating with neighbors before a disaster strikes can help make our neighborhood more resilient after disaster.
- Practicing preparedness with neighbors is empowering—and can even be fun!

Prior to disaster, what do Hub volunteers do?

- Learn how to respond to various scenarios that might occur in our neighborhood after a disaster such as earthquake.
- Practice some of the 10 basic jobs that are needed for a functioning Hub.
- Practice setting up a Hub and using the supplies we have gathered.
- Reach out to organizations in the neighborhood to coordinate emergency plans with them.
- Participate in other important trainings offered to the Hubs, based on your interests.

In case of disaster, what will Hub volunteers do?

The Hub will set up after a disaster has occurred but before outside help arrives. As soon as is safely possible, we will set up a station in Lakewood Park to receive and post emergency bulletins from the City. We will also collect and post information from the neighborhood.

The Hub will be a place for neighbors to come to find who has supplies or services they need, and for neighbors to post about what services or extra supplies they have to share. The Hub will also have reliable information about how to deal with issues like water quality, food safety, and waste.

Volunteers will work in shifts. If you are able, you will likely be called upon to staff one of the stations of the Hub along with other volunteers. The Hub will be temporary; once emergency services arrive, our immediate role will be over, likely within days.

For more information, please watch this video:

youtu.be/icXq279CmXs

Visit our web page:

<http://www.lspcc.org/emergency-hub/>

To join our mailing list or learn more about volunteering:

LSPCChub@gmail.com

Lakewood Seward Park
Emergency Communications Hub